Developments in the great railway boycott and tie up have been somewhat startling since last dispatch. A riotous Chicago mob was fired on by state military on Saturday. Over twenty persons were wounded and several of them are dead. Regular troops fired at a mob at Hammond, Ind., on Sunday, killing one man and wounding four. The militia also charged a mob which obstructed a train in the Chicago stock yards. One man was killed and several injured. In another instance deputies fired and a young lady who was watching the crowd from a roof was killed. Other disturbances are reported, such as stopping trains, upsetting cars to block tracks, setting fire to cars, etc. The war department has taken charge of the Northern Pacific and Union Pacific railways, and will keep them running as military roads. Reinforcements of federal troops have been ordered to Chicago and every railway depot in the city is to be garrisoned. The strike appears to be spreading in some directions while in other cases orders to strike have been disobeyed. Officials report more activity on railways than for some days. Several labor organizations and representative officers have sent letters and petitions to President Cleveland, and the latter has replied by issuing a proclamation to "keep off the grass." The shareholders of a number of railways have endorsed his action. The managers' efforts to bring about an arbitration have borne no fruit. The printers of Chicago and Winnipeg have expressed sympathy with the strikers and have given money to aid them. Business in Eastern Canada is seriously affected and fears are expressed that the strikes may extend to Canada or at least to Buffalo. Strikers burned a million dollars worth of rolling stock in the Chicago yards.

GLORIOUS SUMMER.

Mid-summer is approaching and never did the season in the Edmonton district—or it may be said in any part of the world—give fairer promise of an abundant yield in all branches of the farming industry. Spring opened a little later than usual, and the weather immediately following was unfavorable rather than otherwise, being unusually cool, dry and windy; but a change came with the first rainfall on May 14th and from that time forward the conditions could not have been more favorable for good and rapid growth. The bulk of the seeding was over before the date mentioned, so that the main part of the crop has received all the benefit that a most favorable season could confer. Of course in this district where new settlers are breaking land for the first time and naturally are anxious to get in every acre of crop that they can, plowing and sowing has been continued far beyond the time usually allowed for seeding operations in any part of the west. And yet even the latest and most miserably sown has a good fighting chance under present conditions to be a fair crop. Land that was in proper condition and seed that was sown in proper time is invariably doing well. Barley is heading out freely and wheat and oats are commencing to head. Potatoes are already large enough for use in many cases and all kinds of roots and vegetables are doing well. The cut worms which are frequently a pest in the gardens and sometimes in the fields seem to have disappeared, for the present at least. The hot and rainy weather which continued at intervals from May 14th until the past week brought on the crops evenly as well as rapidly so that there is every prospect of a heavy crop as well as of an early harvest. On one or two nights in June frost is reported to have occurred in low lying localities but without injuring anything but the most tender plants, such as beans or cucumbers, while throughout the greater part of the district these and other like tender plants are entirely untouched. Now that the rains have apparently ceased, the continued hot weather may have an effect on late sown crop, but the crop that has reached a stage at which it covers the ground and retains the moisture will do very well even if no rains should fall; the heavy dews of this region being sufficient to supply it with the needed moisture. And it is not likely, now that the days have begun to shorten, that the heat will be so intense as to do harm even to late crops. The hot winds which often cook the crops of the Dakotas, Nebraska and Kansas before they are ripe are never felt here. While the prospect for cultivated crops is so good that for wild fruits of which this district produces an abundance is quite as good. Strawberries are now in season and the whole of the open prairie is one vast strawberry patch. The price at which these berries are sold, $1.50 a pail is sufficient evidence of their abundance. Saskatoon berries—the berry of the Saskatchewan—are now ripening and are more abundant than they have been for years—and a good crop of saskatoon berries means an abundance which has to be seen to be realized. Raspberry bushes also give assurance of immense quantities of that delicious fruit. Black cherry trees are loaded and no doubt the high and low bush cranberries and blueberries—the late comers which seldom or never fail—will be plentiful as ever. The appearance of the country at the present time is such as must strike the dullest eye. The deep dark green of the poplar woods, the tall waving grass of the prairies, filled with flowers of a hundred beautiful varieties from the stately orange lily to the tiny white speck hiding close to the ground; the smoothly undulating surface showing blue slopes and ridges in the far distance, but cut in two by the deep valley of the Saskatchewan and its wide swift flowing stream—it is the very model of a region in which use and beauty are combined in the very highest degree to make it desirable as an abode of man.

ARBITRATION VS. LAW.

Commercial: A happy feature of the times is the tendency to substitute arbitration for law. It is but the thin edge of the wedge that has entered so far, but we may expect rapid progress in the future in the direction of extending the principle of arbitration. Law is unsatisfactory. It is seldom we hear a good word said for it. Those who have had the most practical experience with law, are the most free to express their dissatisfaction with the system. So far as the will of the people is concerned, the progress in the substitution of arbitration for law would be rapid. Legislation, however, must be obtained, and herein lies the difficulty, as the adverse interests are strong enough in legislative circles to greatly delay the will of the people. While the principle in law is no doubt sound and good, it is the practical results which prove so unsatisfactory, and this is true to such a great extent that we frequently hear it said that even those who come out ahead in a suit are the losers, as well as the less fortunate ones who are spoken of as having lost the case. The expense connected with even trivial cases is so great, and the technicalities, delays and quibbles are sometimes so annoying, that it is often better to suffer wrong than to go to law about a matter. The principle of arbitration is now becoming more generally recognized. In Great Britain it has made considerable progress, and the boards of arbitration have been established. Last week we published in The Commercial an article referring to the passage of an act in the province of Ontario, providing for the establishment of boards of arbitration. The effect of the movement in that province will no doubt be watched with interest in other parts of Canada. Certainly so far as disputes of a business nature are concerned, more satisfactory results could be obtained by arbitration than by law. Disputes of a business nature should be and undoubtedly can be settled more cheaply, expeditiously and satisfactorily in a business way, by business men, than by taking them into the courts. In Winnipeg we have a system of arbitration established and carried out by the members of a business organization, and the result is a hundred times more satisfactory than it would be if the law were called in to settle such disputes. We refer to the arbitration board in connection with the grain exchange. The system of arbitration established by the grain exchange is of course only by agreement of the members. It has no legal power nor force, and there are no means of enforcing decisions beyond the rules of the exchange. We believe there is room for a legally qualified board of arbitration in Winnipeg, before which business men could take their disputes for final settlement. Such an institution should be able to accomplish much good work, in the direction of settling trouble among business men and saving expense, as well as saving friendship. Arbitration is usually adopted in a friendly spirit, but who ever heard of the law being invoked in a friendly way?

GENERAL NEWS.

Savage, conservative, is elected in West Algoma, Ont., instead of Conmee, liberal, by 7 majority.

The first number of the Prince Albert Advocate is to hand. It is a well printed and newsy weekly; C. R. Stovel, proprietor.

Battleford Herald: Perfect growing weather during the past week is the verdict of every one interested in crops of any kind.

Heavy rains were general throughout Manitoba and the Northwest during the two weeks ending, June 25th. In Manitoba the crops were suffering severely for want of rain.

The U. S. senate has finally disposed of the sugar schedule of the tariff bill. The duty is fixed at 40 per cent. ad valorem on all sugars with additions of one-eighth of a cent a pound on sugars above No. 16 Dutch standard, and one-tenth of a cent per pound on sugars imported from countries that pay an export duty. The bill takes effect as soon as passed.

Vancouver, B. C. report of June 25th to the Commercial: Trade is said to be improving correspondingly as freight commences to move from the interior. Little if any freight has been handled over the C. P. R. since the flood and stocks are very low. Money is very tight, two houses are reported in financial difficulties. It is currently rumored upon the street that the Imperial Bank of Canada are going to open a branch of their bank in Vancouver which illustrates that another wise and carefully managed financial institution has faith in the future of the terminal city. The C. P. R. announces that freight will move this week. The distribution of stocks will make the wholesale trade very lively for a time. The lumber mills are running full time, and a large fleet of vessels is in port loading lumber for foreign ports.

Battleford Herald: "A goodly number of our unemployed and the younger members of outlying settlers' families are making fair wages at digging Seneca or Snake-root, which Mr. Mercer buys for export. Quite a number of our western native plants are of value from an economic point of view. Of this class none is better known, more widely sought after, or more easily obtainable than the Polygala Senega, or Seneca Snake-root. In Manitoba it is gathered in large quantities by the Indians, who usually find a ready market for all they can procure. Its favorite habitat is in stony or gravelly soil, and about the edge and within the clumps of poplar and other trees. The plant is low-growing, with nothing in its appearance to attract special attention. From a hard knotty root-stem, more or less yellowish in color and which has the flavor of winter green, rises one or several stems from six to twelve inches high, and which are often purplish in color near the ground. Each of these stems is pretty closely clothed with lanceolate, rather obtuse pointed, rough margined leaves, and terminates in a close spike of small white flowers. Some of the root is used in the preparation of cough mixtures, but the bulk of the crop is converted into flavoring for candies." This root is also being marketed extensively at Prince Albert. Its preference for stony or gravelly soil is a sufficient explanation of its scarcity in the Edmonton district.

Winnipeg Commercial, July 2nd: The week has been the most favorable one for the crops of the season. There has been abundance of rain about all over the country. The rain of Saturday, June 23rd, which set in just as our report for that week was closed, was general all over Manitoba, and was the best rain of the season up to that date. It lasted about twelve hours at Winnipeg. There was a prolonged rain again on Wednesday and Thursday, lasting about 18 hours at Winnipeg, with lighter showers on other days. The rainfall at Winnipeg for the week ending Thursday was 2.73 inches. So far as moisture is concerned, there is now an abundance. The effect on the crops of the dry weather of the latter part of May and first half of June, lasting up to the 20th of June in some districts, is a matter of considerable speculation. The general opinion in best informed circles is that the crop has been permanently reduced in condition, and that with favorable weather for the balance of the season, not more than a moderate crop can be expected. The condition has certainly improved very much during the last two weeks, but it is hardly possible that a complete recovery from the effects of the drought can take place, as a great deal of the crop was well advanced, a good deal being in the shot blade. In some districts, particularly the northwestern and southwestern edge of the settled districts, the drought was not felt, and crops are good, but in these districts settlement and cultivation is limited. The districts which supply three-quarters of the wheat crop were more or less affected by drought. While with favorable weather for the balance of the season a fair crop will be secured, the rains came too late to make a large crop possible.

MR. PRINCE'S CUTTING REPLY.

EDITOR BULLETIN:

In your last issue of July 2nd inst., I read with much ludicrous sensation the stinging reply of our M. L. A., to the settlers of township 55, range 22, west 4, when they complained of his tergiversations in conducting the business of the district.

A superficial observer would no doubt remark, in the gentleman's eclectic effusion, a certain volubility of speech and an apparent dexterity in his contrivances to elude recriminations, but I trust he may be made to learn to his cost that dexterity, however powerful it is in cases, will never prevail against plain and incontrovertible facts.

The bulk of his argumentation, though apparently caustic and conclusive, is in fact, when analysed and reduced to its intrinsic value, nothing but a ridiculous piece of quibbling.

I cannot help from saying that Mr. Prince is very pragmatic in his notions when he says, for instance, that N. Lepage wants to be provided with a power of attorney from his fellow-citizens to express his wants and theirs as well. As to his charge of plagiarism against me, it is so gratuitous, so puerile and vulgar that I am irresistibly impelled to let it pass unheeded. Mr. Prince, in the last phrase of his praiseworthy letter, talks with a levity unbecoming a M. L. A., and I would give his preposterous and eccentric assertion a word of refutation if meddling with such trivialities was not committing an act contrary to my dignity as a man. Similia Similibus curantur.

I. LEPAGE.

Fort Saskatchewan, July 7th, 1894.

FORT SASKATCHEWAN ALBERTA.

The latest phase in the diamond question in Northern Alberta is the finding of a bright stone in a prairie chicken's crop, which was shot last fall, by a settler living between the Horse Hills and the North Saskatchewan river, about half way between Edmonton and our town. It was shown to two of Edmonton's prominent citizens this spring, who informed the writer that it bears the exact semblance of a diamond. Should this catch the eye of the settler in question, or any of his neighbors, it would be well for all concerned to produce the stone and show it to the editors of both Edmonton papers, with full and definite particulars as to location, so that a general search can be made in the locality, if the stone is genuine. It is not very hard to prove whether it is or not.

A good sized lump of graphite or black lead, was found lately in the creek which runs through the back of our town.

The new hotel here is now in full working order and is a credit to the place.

There is to be an Orange picnic here on the 12th instant, and it is expected that a large number of the brethren will attend from all parts of the district.

Farmers report the crops as being in splendid shape. Could not be better they say.

New settlers keep passing through with stock and effects, to the country east of here.

There is a good opening for a roller process flour mill, lumber yard and a number of other businesses.

The contractors are getting on well with the grading of the streets.

July 5th, 1894.

In the supplementary estimates are put the items of $10,000 for repairs, renewals, replacement of horses, arms and ammunition for the Mounted Police and $30,000 for new buildings and general repairs.

Calgary Herald: Col. Macleod, C. M. G., arrived from the south on Saturday night to take up his residence in Calgary. Judge Macleod has resided in the place that bears his name for 20 years. A banquet was tendered to him on Thursday evening.

Winnipeg Commercial, June 30th: The fine weather this week for the crops has greatly improved the situation, and though a heavy wheat crop is not counted upon, the indications now point to a fair crop and an early harvest. The growth of straw has been checked by the dry weather, which will reduce the cost of harvesting and make up to some extent for a moderate yield.

THE CELEBRATION.

EDITOR BULLETIN.

DEAR SIR: The 27th anniversary of the birthday of our fair Dominion has just been celebrated. Throughout all Canada it was kept as a day of sport and recreation. The events that transpired in Edmonton on that occasion have given rise to many wonderings in the breasts of citizens unacquainted with the laws and customs of the Territories. It appears to them that drunkenness was too prevalent for the good of the community. Though they are informed, and pleased to know it, that matters in this regard are much better than in recent years.

The sober citizen has in most civilized countries rights as well as the inebriate, and there are a few questions that on this occasion involuntarily present themselves to his mind. He wonders by what authority on the open field within the limits of the corporation intoxicating liquors were sold. He wonders, if the parties who petitioned for that authority were the proper parties within the meaning of the ordinance respecting the same. He wonders if he did grant permits, was careful to ascertain that the ordinance respecting sale of liquor at places for the propagation of mainly sport was complied with. He wonders if there is a license inspector, and if so, whether or not he noticed any of the violations of the ordinance which it is his duty to see complied with. He wonders that no liquor was sold to Indians and yet so many were drunk. He wonders what fools, ordinarily smart industrious and sensible men made of themselves when drunk last Monday. He wonders that the sober citizens of Edmonton did not rise in indignation and hustle the beer and ale that did the dirty work into the earth. Thanking you Mr. Editor for the space in your valuable paper. I remain yours for law and order,

WONDERER.

STURGEON HAPPENINGS.

The new school house in the Sunnyside school district, has been finished. It is a handsome building. Public school has been conducted in that district since 1st May. All are invited. Come one, come all.

A lost boy. On the evening of the 4th inst., Master Bertie Maxfield did not return to his father's house as usual after having had his romp with the big dog. When night came on, the folks became very anxious about him and they began, with the help of the neighbors, a careful search of the surrounding country. "The wretched people all that night, went shouting far and wide; but there was neither sound nor sight to serve them for a guide." Bertie was found next morning at his uncle's, five miles away, enjoying his holidays. Then all wept for joy and returned to their respective homes.

Miss Martin of New Lunnun, is spending vacation under her parents' roof, Red Deer. Miss Timney of the Horse Hills school, Miss Martin of New Lunnun, Miss McNeil of Sturgeon and Mr. McClelland of Sunnyside, all attended the teachers' convention on 29th and 30th, ult.

Because at the prices we sell them they offer the best value for your money.

Because for men's wear they are the cheapest and most durable.

Because for ladies' wear we show a more complete and varied stock than any house in town.

Because for Misses, Boys and Children our stock is complete.

Because for all we offer you a choice, whether you aim at appearance, ease or durability, or a combination of all these qualities.

We are offering special lines of Bicycle and Tennis Shoes.

Each change in weather as the warm season approaches brings with it the necessity for a change of headwear. Just now we want to sell you Straw Hats.

Gentlemen—Before purchasing elsewhere call in and price our Straws. They are this season's newest shapes, and like our Felts are the lowest in price offered here.

Ladies—We have the daintiest and prettiest shapes in Sailors' and Fancy Straws at marvelously low prices. The same may be said of our Girls' and Child's Sailor Straws, which for value defy competition.

Cowboy Hats.

We have just opened our J. B. Stetson No. 1 quality Men's Cowboy Hats. These Hats wear well and keep their shape. Don't be deceived with imitations.

Athletes and Cyclists

Dress Goods.

There are still a few of those costume lengths left. They are the latest, and if you require a dress, one can be secured very cheaply by purchasing from us.

Soon the cry will be "Oh, this sultry hot day." Be ready for such days and have one of those light beautiful dresses from our stock of all wool Delaines at 25cts. a yard, cotton Pongees, you can scarcely tell when made from silk, at 17cts. a yard.
